Rotary accepting applications for International Scholarships

(Fairfield, CT) — The Rotary Club of Fairfield, district 7980 is accepting applications for Rotary International Scholarships for study in another country.

An Ambassadorial Scholarship is available for one academic year of study in a foreign university. Another scholarship is available for three months of intensive foreign language study abroad. Students in the one year program will receive $24,000 funding and those in the three month study will receive $11,000.

Successful students will be expected to have speaking engagements locally and abroad. They are also expected to promote good will and be good ambassadors for Rotary and the United States. Successful applicants for the World Peace Fellowship are invited to pursue a two years masters program in peace studies and conflict resolutions at one of seven Rotary's Centers for International Peace. A limited number of these fellowships are available each year, and competition is on a world wide basis.

Applications for study that may begin as early as the summer of 2009 can be processed now through the spring of 2008.

Successful scholars will be assigned a Rotarian sponsor and a counselor. Deadline for application submission is June 1, 2008.

Any one interested in more information may contact, Kathi Eigenrauch of the Fairfield Rotary Club at Kathleen.Eigenrauch@yesbank.com or (203) 767-8753.

In addition added information is available on the Rotary International website: www.Rotary.org.
